

Stations & Recipes

The Cookbook and the crafting stations you make food on.

- The Cookbook
- The Cooking Station
- Teacups & Teas

The Cookbook

The Cookbook is your in-game guide to everything Josh's More Foods adds. It lists every recipe in the pack, so it is the best place to start.

Getting it

The Cookbook is a shapeless recipe — just place the ingredients anywhere in the crafting grid. Open your recipe book and search for it to see exactly what it needs.

Using it

Hold or open the Cookbook to browse the full list of foods, drinks and the stations they use. If you ever forget a recipe, the Cookbook has it.

The Cooking Station

The Cooking Station is the workstation for many of the pack's recipes. You craft it once, place it down, and use it like a dedicated kitchen block.

Crafting it

Shaped recipe:

```
Leather  Bucket  Leather
          Smoker
          Campfire
```

That is leather, bucket, leather across the top row, a Smoker in the centre, and a Campfire directly below it.

Using it

Place the Cooking Station down and interact with it to cook the recipes that call for it. Check the Cookbook or your recipe book to see which dishes need the station versus a normal crafting table.

Teacups & Teas

Fancy a brew? The pack adds a range of teas and hot drinks, served in teacups you craft yourself.

Crafting teacups

Arrange 5 bricks in a U shape to get 2 teacups:

```
Brick      Brick
Brick Brick Brick
```

(Top row: brick, gap, brick. Bottom row: three bricks.)

Making teas

With teacups in hand, follow the tea recipes in the Cookbook to brew different blends. Teas are a cosy alternative to potions — check the Cookbook for the full list and what each one does.